F534
F7S7

15
434

534
S7
y 1

Souvenir of Fort Wayne

F534
F757

The Beautiful City of

Fort Wayne

S. H. KNOX & CO., Publishers

Copyright 1906, by J. MURRAY JORDAN,
148 South Penn Square, Philadelphia.

SITUATED one hundred and forty-eight miles east of Chicago. It is the county seat of Allen County and has a population of 55,000. It is a great railroad center, seven steam roads, and four electric railroads enter the city, eighty-six passenger trains steam in and out of Fort Wayne daily, while electric cars pass in every direction at all hours, and the city is fast becoming the metropolis of the surrounding territory.

Fort Wayne is second in doing the largest financial business in the state of Indiana, having seventeen banks and trust companies, and all do a good business. It also is a good manufacturing city, its produce being shipped to all parts of the globe. The retail and wholesale business done in Fort Wayne is not surpassed by any city in the country of its size. Unlike most other manufacturing cities, however, it is a fine residence city, and can justly be proud of its beautiful homes and streets.

There are forty-six churches in Fort Wayne of all denominations, while the educational advantages are remarkable, there being sixteen school houses, where 172 teachers are employed. Fort Wayne's public buildings are worthy of being mentioned, among them are the Court House, High School, the Public Library, Post Office and City Hall.

Fort Wayne has five daily, six weekly, two monthly, and two Sunday papers, and is well supplied with places of amusement. The Majestic and Masonic Temple theatres secure the best attractions in the country, and during the hot summer months continuous vaudeville is played in Robinson Park, which also contains a pavilion, summer hotel and other places of attraction. The healthfulness of the city is universally conceded. This is due to the excellent system of sewerage and good water supply.

Fort Wayne has seven beautifully improved parks, located in different parts of the city and are a great comfort to thousands of its inhabitants.

Calhoun Street between Berry and Main Streets

THE ALLEN COUNTY COURT HOUSE

CITY HALL

Corner Barr and East Berry Streets

The home of City Officials and the Police Department.

Corner of Clinton and East Berry Streets

THE GOVERNMENT BUILDING

The home of our local post office.

Corner of Calhoun and East Berry Streets

Corner of Clinton and East Wayne Streets

THE MASONIC TEMPLE THEATRE

Corner of Main and Calhoun Streets

Barr Street between East Jefferson and Lewis Streets

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Calhoun Street between Lewis and Jefferson Streets

THE CATHOLIC CATHEDRAL

Corner of Clinton and East Washington Boulevard

THE FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Corner of West Wayne Street and Broadway

WAYNE STREET METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

BETHEL EVANGELICAL CHURCH

Corner of East DeWald and Clinton Streets

Spy Run Avenue Car Line

THE INDIANA SCHOOL FOR FEEBLE MINDED YOUTHS

THE ST. JOE HOSPITAL

Broadway and West Main Streets

THE HOPE HOSPITAL

East Washington Boulevard and Barr Streets

Corner of Calhoun and West Berry Streets

THE OLD NATIONAL BANK

Organized January, 1885.

Columbia Street between Calhoun and Harrison Streets

THE WAYNE HOTEL

Corner of West Wayne and Webster Streets

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

One of Fort Wayne's most beautiful buildings.

Corner of East Lewis and Barr Streets

THE PUBLIC HIGH SCHOOL

Built of marble and stone. One of Fort Wayne's monuments of education that any city would be proud of.

Corner of East Main and Clay Streets

OLD FORT PLACE

This monument is erected on the sight of old Fort Wayne, built by General Anthony Wayne, of Revolutionary fame, and it was from this Fort that the present city derives its name.

CALHOUN STREET, NORTH FROM WAYNE STREET

Fort Wayne's principal business street.

COLUMBIA STREET, WEST FROM CALHOUN STREET

A view of one of our busy thoroughfares, showing the Randall Hotel in the background.

WEST WAYNE STREET, FROM WEBSTER STREET

THE RESIDENCE OF J. H. BASS, ESQ.

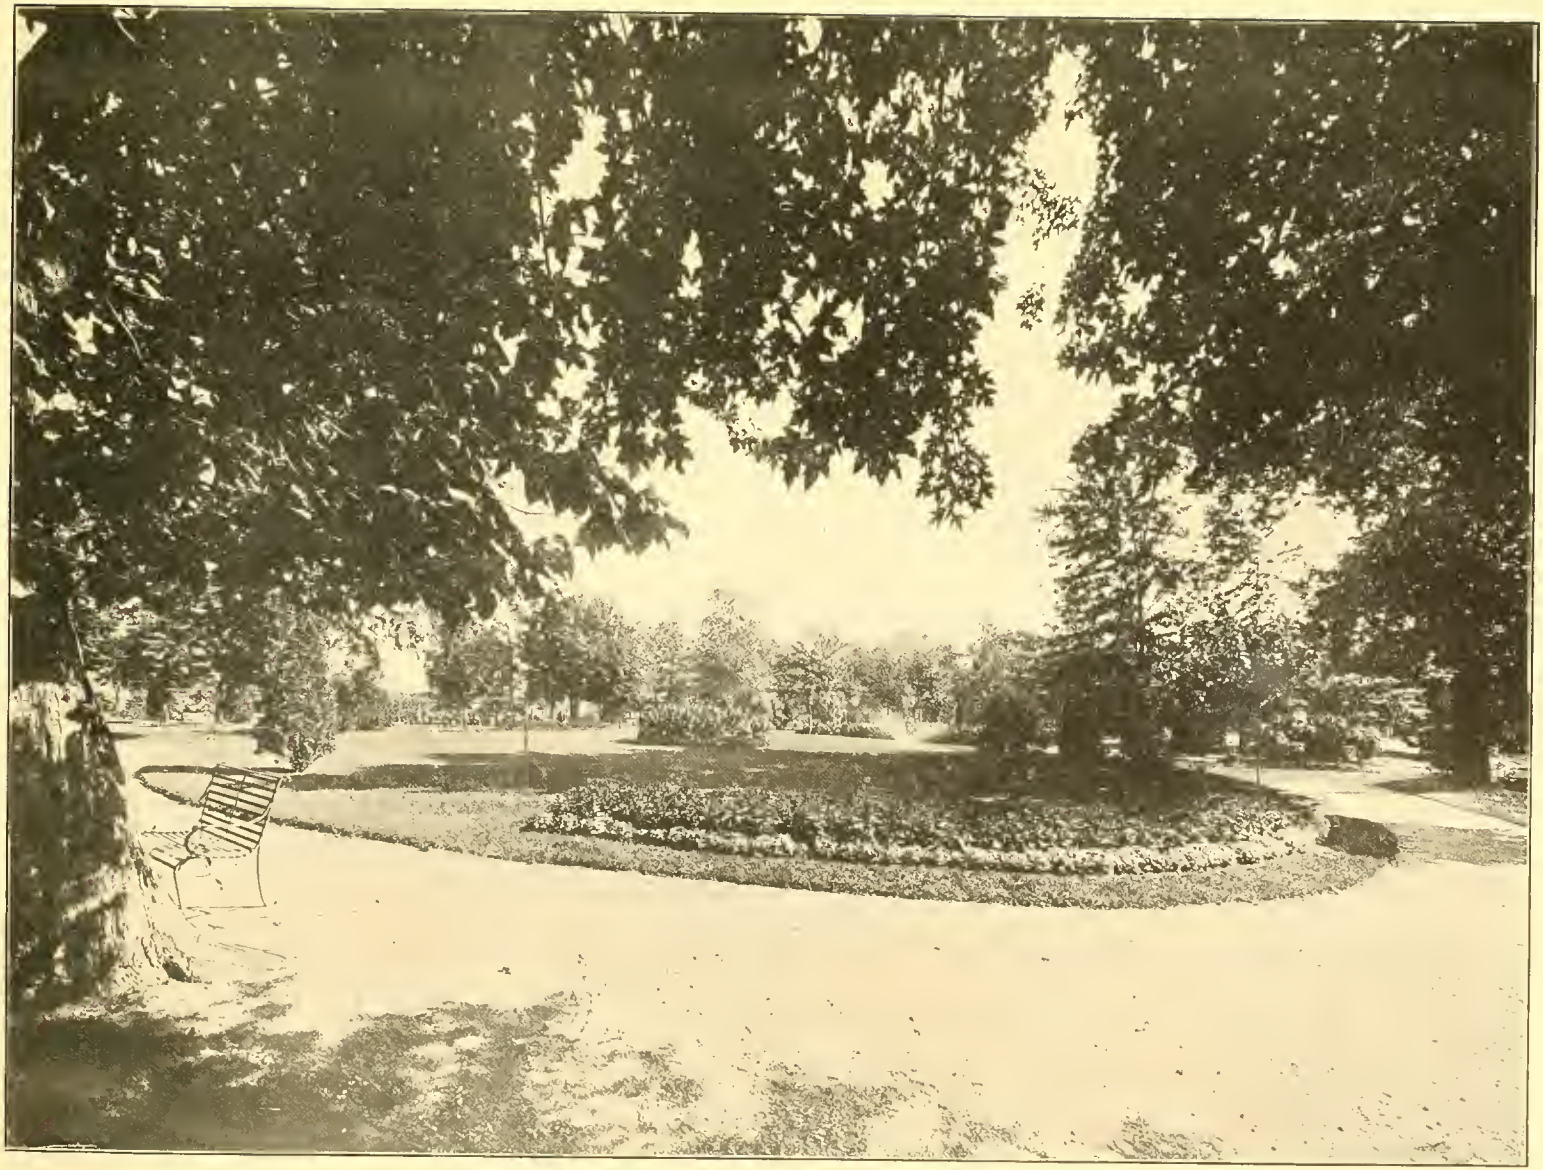
Located on the north Side

LAWTON PARK AND LAWTON MONUMENT

Located on the south Side

RESERVOIR PARK

One of the most beautiful parks in Indiana. The reservoir supplies the greater part of the city with its water.



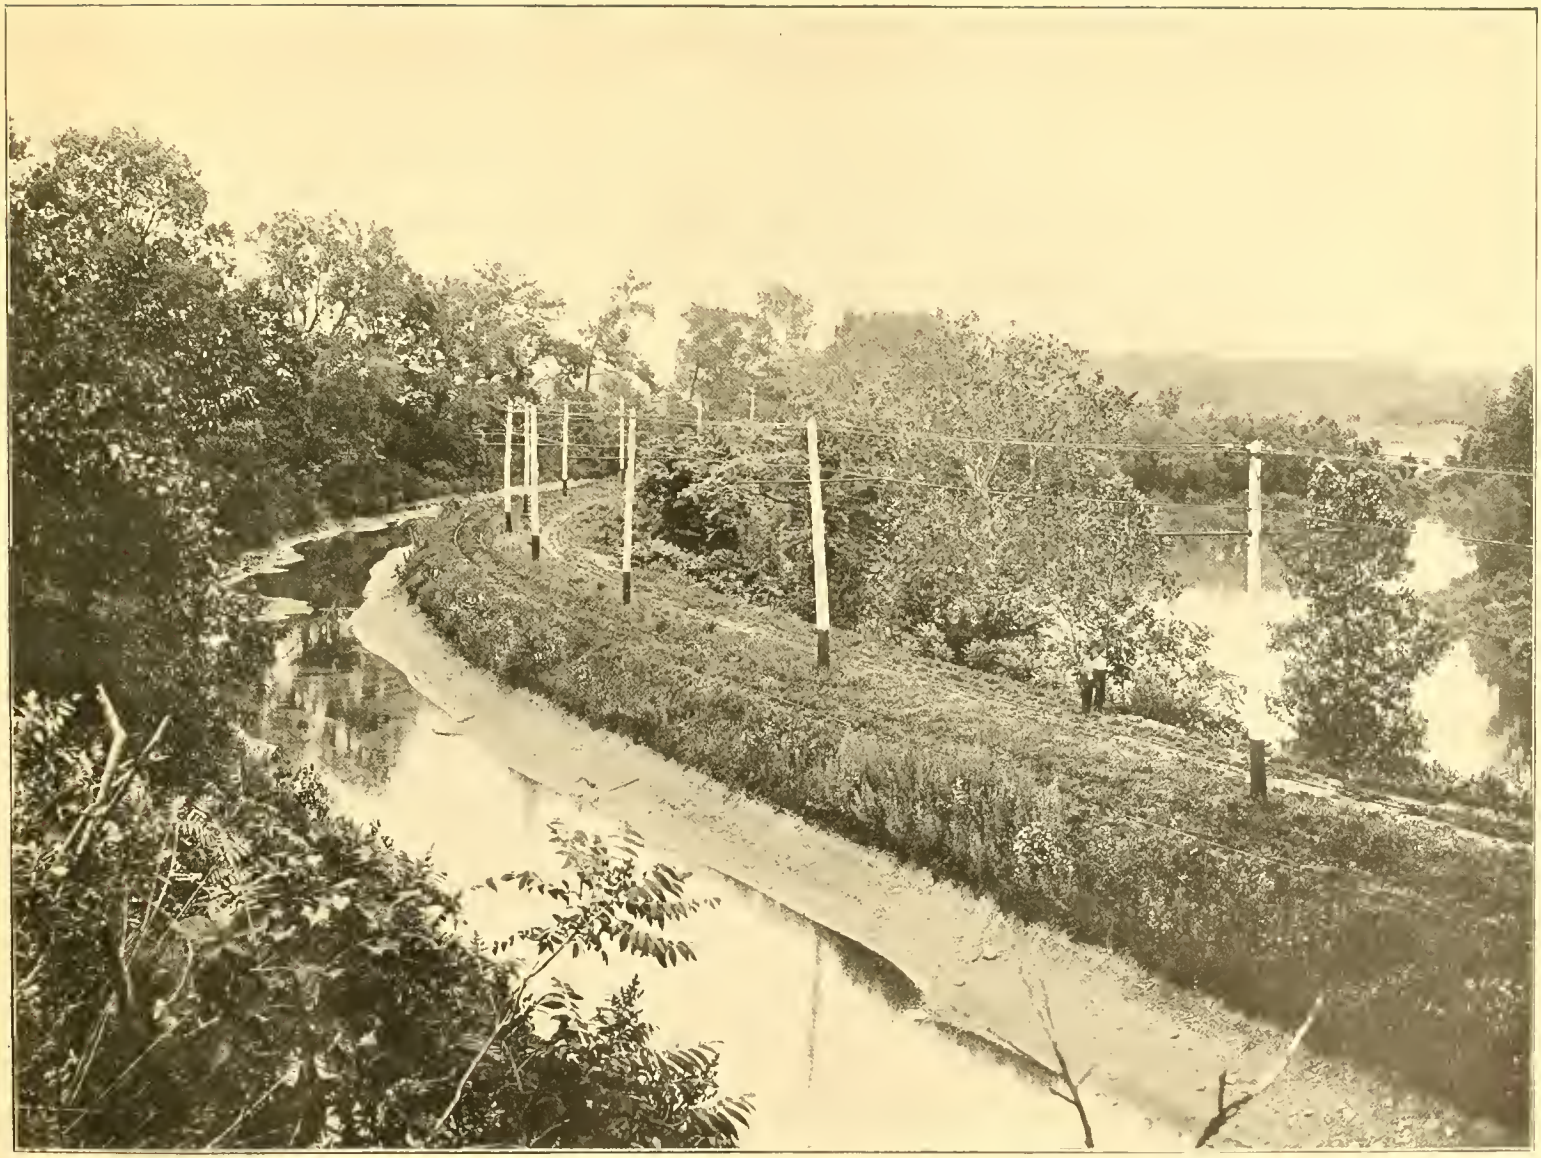
Broadway opposite Swinney Avenue

McCULLOCH PARK

One of the many beautiful Parks of Fort Wayne.

ROBINSON PARK

The most popular amusement spot in the vicinity of Fort Wayne.



ONE OF THE MANY PRETTY SCENES ON THE WAY TO ROBINSON PARK

ENTRANCE TO LINDWOOD CEMETERY

This beautiful cemetery, the pride of Fort Wayne, is situated on Huntington Road, one-half mile west of the city limits.

LAGOON IN LINDWOOD CEMETERY

One of the prettiest burial places in northern Indiana.

827 Calhoun Street

S. H. KNOX & CO. 5 and 10 CENT STORE
One of the busiest stores in Fort Wayne.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
0 014 753 371 8

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY
J. MURRAY JORD
1438 S. PENN SQUAR
PHILADELPHIA